THE NEW BOND ISSUE

Treasury Officials Astounded at the Success of the Call.
HUNDREDS OF SMALL BIDDERS
Secretary Carlisle Calls on the President This Morning and Congratulations Are Exchanged—Morgan Syndicate Expects the Bulk.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Treasury officials are in joyful spirits to-day over the remarkable success of the popular bond issue. Secretary Carlisle called at the White House this morning and held a private conference with the president lasting for about half an hour, and it is understood his only errand was to congratulate President Cleveland and to himself receive congratulations on the outcome of the loan offer. The secretary, when seen later by a newspaper correspondent, said he was greatly pleased at the brilliantly conspicuous success of the loan, and declared that it showed what the people of this country would do when appealed to. He thought, too, that the effect abroad would be very marked in our favor.

Corrected Figures of the Bona-fide Bids.

Corrected figures place the number of bona-fide bids at 4,610, aggregating $53,209,820. There were several bogus bids, one of $10,000,000 from a doctor in Michigan and $16,000,000 from some one in Texas. There were 154 bids aggregating $3,360,450, at 110; 24 bids aggregating $985,300, at 110.2992; 58 bids, aggregating $1,269,750, at 110.50. The Hanover National bank bid for $1,000,000 at 110.95; the same at 110.299, the same at 110.72, the same at 110.57. J. P. Morgan, Harvey Fisk & Son and the Deutsche bank of Berlin, as a syndicate, bid for $103,000,000 of bonds at 110.678. The allotment of the bonds cannot be made before to-morrow, or Saturday. Among the bids received were many for small sums coming from people in all parts of the country. This indicates that the people have regained confidence and are again willing to trust their savings to be circulated and used in business.

Overwhelmed with Work.

The treasury department was simply overwhelmed by the enormous number of bids received. With fifteen expert clerks at work scheduling the bids, at 6 o'clock last night, they having worked incessantly since 5 o'clock in the morning, 1,200 bids remained unscheduled. The work of copying these was begun this morning. It will take many hours of hard work to straighten out the tangle as to the bids received and the exact prices offered. In spite of the care exercised by the committee which opened the bids, many unavoidable errors were made in announcing the bids. As proof of this, it may be mentioned that a number of offers from prominent eastern financial institutions, all apparently acting in concert, were read out as being at 110.75. This had progressed for some time when the correction was suggested by one of the parties in interest that all those bids were at 110.075. In future readings they were so announced. The official analysis of the figures will determine the result, and this will be necessarily a week of great labor.

Morgan Expects 60 Per Cent. of Them.

The great feature of the bond bidding was the offer of J. P. Morgan's syndicate, which as now composed includes only his own banking house, the Deutsche bank of Berlin, Germany, and Harvey Fisk & Sons of New York. They proposed to take the entire issue at 110.677. Only one other bid of anything like equal amount was received, Pierpont Morgan, after figuring on the bids received said this morning that he would be awarded on his bid about 60 per cent. of the $100,000,000. He reached this conclusion simply from hearing the various bids read, as he did not think that more than 40,000,000 bids above that figure had been made. Scarcely more than one-third of the actual bids received are included in the imperfect lists now published.

Number of Small Bids Remarkable.

The number of small bids was quite remarkable. The fifty dollar offers ran up into the hundreds and at fairly good prices, and over 1,000 small banks and private individuals whose offers at the highest rates of acceptability ranged from $500 up to $8,000 or $9,000 are not included in the list published. The offers by the classes of small bidders below the 110 and a fraction limit, which seems shut off the issue, were still more numerous. An encouraging feature in these offers was that so many of those of large amount ranging, in many cases, up to one or more millions of dollars, came from fiduciary institutions, which thereby indicated that they had a better outlet for their money than that afforded by the United States bonds at the price at which they will undoubtedly be awarded.

Conditions of the Issue.

The bonds for which the bids are made are redeemable in coin, and will be issued in denominations of $50 or multiples of that sum, as may be desired by the bidders. Only United States gold coin or gold certificates will be received in payment of the bonds. Under the terms of the se-

tary's circular calling for bids, the first payment of 20 per cent. and accrued interest must be made upon receipt of notice of the acceptance of the bid. The remainder of the amounts bid may be paid in installments of 10 per cent. each and accrued interest at the end of each fifteen days thereafter. Accepted bidders, however, are allowed to pay the whole amount of their bids at the time of the first instalment or at any time previous to the maturity of the last instalment, provided all previous instalments have been paid. The bonds will be dated Feb. 1, 1895, to run thirty years from that time, and will therefore mature Feb. 1, 1925.

Calculation by the Treasury Actuary. According to the calculations of the actuary of the treasury, a bidder in order to realize 2½ per cent. interest on his investment should have offered $130,8749 for each $100 in bonds bid for. To realize higher rates of interest bids should have been made as follows: 2½ per cent. $124,9234, 3 per cent. $110,3229, 3 1/16 per cent. $117,9749, 3 1/4 per cent. $116,6171, 3 1/8 per cent. $115,3341, 3 1/3 per cent. $114,0566, 3 5/16 per cent. $112,7814, 3 7/8 per cent. $111,5310, 3 17/16 per cent. $110,2992, 3 3/4 per cent. $109,0856, 3 9/16 per cent. $107,8900, 3 1/4 per cent. $106,7121, 3 11/16 per cent. $105,5516, 3 2/8 per cent. $104,4082, 3 13/16 per cent. $103,2516, 3 3/4 per cent. $102,1716, 3 15/16 per cent. $101,6778, 4 per cent. $100.

Sale in Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 6.—Sales of the new bonds were made on the New York stock exchange yesterday afternoon, delivery in twenty days, at 110 1/2. This gives a profit at once of 5 1/2 per cent. to any one having bonds allotted to them at 110.

Will Re-establish Confidence.

London, Feb. 6.—The Daily News in an article commenting upon the subscriptions for the new American loan, to-day says: "The manner in which the loan has been subscribed will repair the damage done to the credit of the United States and will re-establish public confidence."

BLOOD ON HER CLOTHING.

Developments in the Grant Murder Case. Dark for Mrs. Quintan.

Boston, Feb. 6.—Dr. Wood of Harvard University has reported to the police department in substance that he has found blood upon the dress worn by Mrs. Quintan on the night of the murder of Mrs. Sophia Grant in Charlestown. He has given the police to understand that the blood was not in blotches on the garment, as it would have been if it had been acquired from simply leaning over the body to make an examination after an assault by some other party, but that both sides of the dress were spattered all over with the crimson life fluid as would probably result if the blows were struck in the presence of the one clothed in it. Dr. Wood's preliminary statement concerning his investigations, the whole report not having been furnished to the police department as yet, has made a profound sensation.

POLICE LOOKING FOR BARTON.

He Placed the Poison in the Coffee That Killed Miss Tate.

Philadelphia, Feb. 6.—The police are bending every effort to effect the capture of the man who placed the poison in the coffee that killed Miss Annie Tate, housekeeper for Josiah H. Richelderfer, and caused the illness of the latter, which may yet prove fatal. The man gave his name as George Barton, and said his father and stepmother lived in Boston and that he had an uncle in Freehold, N. J. He was employed by Mr. Richelderfer only last Saturday to serve as body servant to the latter, and Tuesday at dinner he placed arsenic in the coffee which Mr. Richelderfer and Miss Tate drank. After they became seriously sick Barton attended them and gave them some remedies. Then he ransacked the house and disappeared. Miss Tate was a native of Altoona, Pa., and her only known relative is a sister named Mrs. Jennie Harris, who lives in Hollidaysburg, Pa.

GUILTY OF ARSON

Father Fitzgerald To Be Sentenced at Rochester on Saturday.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The trial of Rev. John M. Fitzgerald on the charge of causing the parochial school house in Charlotte to be set on fire and burned early on the morning of July 17 last, was concluded in the county court here last night, and the jury, after being out about four hours, returned a verdict of guilty of arson in the second degree. The judge denied the motion for a new trial and set Saturday next as the date on which he will pass sentence. The full penalty of the crime for which Father Fitzgerald stands convicted is fifteen years in state prison.

Board of Elections for Boston.

Boston, Feb. 6.—There was introduced in the legislature yesterday afternoon a very important bill for the establishment of a board of elections for the city of Boston. The bill provides for a bi-partisan board of four citizens to be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, to serve five years. The salary of the chairman shall be $5,000, of the other members, $1,500 each.

FAVOR THE REBELS

Congress in Hearty Accord with the Cause of the Cubans.

RECOGNITION MAY SOON BE GRANTED

The Senate Will To-day Probably Consider the Substitute for the Concurrent Resolution Offered Last Week Looking to Extending Belligerent Rights.

Washington, Feb. 6.—There is considerable speculation and some little excitement in official circles here as to what action congress may take regarding the rebellion in Cuba, and the opinion is general that sentiment strongly favors the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents. The story that the rebels do not want recognition at present, because such action on the part of our government would make them liable to foreign nations for any injury caused to the person or property of foreigners, which could not be avoided during war, is not sustained by agents of the Cubans in this city, who are exerting themselves to have belligerent rights extended. The substitute offered yesterday in the senate for the concurrent resolution offered last week requesting the president of the United States to use his influence with the government of Spain to recognize the Cuban revolutionists as belligerents practically sets aside the latter measure. The substitute recognizes a condition of public war in Cuba, and declares that the United States shall maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers and shall accord to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports of the United States. The resolution is on the vice-president's table and may be taken up for action to-day. It will probably call forth considerable discussion, but it is pretty generally believed that the Cubans will be recognized as belligerents before many days have passed.

The Alleged Rout of Maceo's Forces.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The Spanish minister has received a copy of the official report of the battle with Maceo on the 1st inst. From this it appears that Gen. Luque found Maceo's forces in Paso Real on the afternoon of that date. They made a stubborn resistance, retreating to the extreme part of the town. The Spanish infantry and cavalry advanced through every street until the enemy was dislodged from the town and took positions in a palm grove at three kilometers from Palma. The Spaniards then, Gen. Luque says, advanced in line. The left, commanded by Col. Hernandez, was composed of two companies of the Gaboya regiment and one of Galicia: the centre commanded by myself was formed by the San Quintan regiment with the one company of Soria and two of Alfonso XIII. The forces of artillery commanded by Lieut. Lison covered the advance. The first charge was repulsed by our infantry formed in line. The second charge was met at the point of the bayonet with some injury to the enemy, but without any of our men being hurt by their machetes. Our artillery discharged grape shot at the enemy at close range." The result was, the report says, a complete rout of the insurgents, of whom sixty-two dead were counted with more than a hundred horses. Gen. Luque was shot through the legs, but was not compelled to abandon the engagement. Major Mijarez of the civil guard was seriously and Major Perez of the infantry fatally wounded.

Government Victory.

(From a Staff Correspondent) Havana, Feb. 6.—An official report received here says an encounter has taken place at Manjuri, a town near Matanzas, between a detachment of Spanish troops under Col. Vieuna and bands of rebels commanded by insurgent chiefs Cayito, Alvarez, Roque, Anieva and others. The engagement lasted forty minutes. The insurgents lost thirty-two killed. The Spanish loss was two wounded.

J. FRANK CLARK.

Why McCarthy Wishes To Retire.

London, Feb. 6.—Justin McCarthy has written to the secretary of the anti-Parnellite party a letter in which he states that the reasons which have led him to decide to resign the leadership of the party are of a purely personal nature. He has, he says, to earn his living by his pen and has too long neglected his profession. He will, however, retain his seat in parliament.

LOYAL TO ENGLAND

Canada Will Stand by the Home Government in Any Trouble.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED AT OTTAWA

To Cultivate Kindly Feeling Towards the United States the Proper Object of the Dominion, But the British Throne's Interests First.

Washington, Feb. 6.—In the house of commons yesterday afternoon Mr. McNeil, government, moved a resolution, "That in view of the threatening aspect of foreign affairs this house desires to assure her majesty's government and the people of the United Kingdom of its unalterable loyalty and devotion to the British throne and the constitution, and that should the occasion unhappy arise, in no other part of the empire than the Dominion would more substantial sacrifices attest the determination of her majesty's subjects to maintain unimpaired the integrity and inviolate the honor of her majesty's government; and this house reiterates the oft-expressed desire of the people of Canada to maintain the most friendly relations with their kinsmen of the United States." Mr. McNeil said his object was to show the world that the British people were united and prepared to stand together in the common defense of honor and integrity of the empire. He incidentally referred to annexation, and said there was no room for such a sentiment in Canada. Mr. Davies, opposition, expressed thorough accord with the resolution. He believed that the recent Venezuelan and German troubles would result in England devising a scheme for more closely uniting the empire.

Favored a Peace Tribunal.

Sir Richard Cartwright, opposition, commanded the resolution. He said Canada occupied one of the two positions, either as a hostage to the United States for the good behavior of England or as a bond of union between the two countries. The proper object of Canada was to cultivate kindly feeling towards the United States. He believed in Mr. Depew's scheme of a common tribunal for the settlement of difficulties between English-speaking nations. Mr. Foster, government leader, endorsed the resolution and said it would help to inform the United States as well as Great Britain how the people of Canada feel on the subject. Mr. Laurier, opposition leader, dilated upon the greatness of England and said he felt sure that all British subjects throughout the world, whatever their nationality, would if called upon give their aid for the defense of the empire. The resolution was carried unanimously amidst great applause.

"A Model Message."

London, Feb. 6.—The Daily News to-day, commenting upon the resolution unanimously adopted in the Canadian house of commons yesterday, expressing unalterable loyalty and devotion to the British throne, says that the judgment and sound political instinct shown by the resolution will be hardly less welcome to the recipients than the loyalty and affection which it manifests throughout. It is, the News adds, a model message.

DUNRAVEN SILENT.

Made No Reference to the Yacht Matter in a Speech at Glasgow.

Glasgow, Feb. 6.—A speech was made here by Lord Dunraven last evening in which his lordship dealt wholly with political subjects, making not the slightest reference to the findings of the New York Yacht club committee in regard to his charges against the Defender or to the course which he intended to pursue in relation thereto.

The rumor that Dunraven intends to make a further statement in support of his charges of fraud in the late international yacht races and then resign from membership in the New York Yacht club, thus ignoring the almost unanimous voice of the British press to apologize for his hasty conduct, cannot be traced to any authentic source.

CONVICTED OF ARSON.

Townsend Guilty of Starting a Fire Which Cost a Life.

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 6.—At the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Benjamin F. Townsend, charged with burning the barn of George P. Calhoun at Rutland, Nov. 25, reported a verdict of guilty. Calhoun lost his life while attempting to rescue his cattle.

Death of Lady Jane Wilde.

London, Feb. 6.—Lady Jane Frances Wilde, widow of Sir William Robert Wilde, M. D., surgeon to her majesty in Ireland, and mother of Oscar Wilde, is dead. She was a woman of considerable literary taste and published a number of poems and translations. She also assisted her husband in a memoir of Beranger.

Sanctioned Her Husband's Murder.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 6.—It was clearly shown at the trial of the Hungarian Jimmitz, convicted yesterday of murder in the first degree for killing Yiesley in the Blackman mine, that the deed was sanctioned by the wife of the murdered man.

MAJORITY VOTED DOWN.

Two Reasons for the Defeat of District of Columbia Appropriation Bill.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The defeat yesterday of the District of Columbia appropriation bill, by a body containing 150 majority upon the side of the majority of the committee from which the bill was reported, by a vote of 143 to 135 was an unprecedented event in the house, and the reason for this defeat was two fold: The democratic minority voted solidly against it aided by those republicans who opposed the insertion of any appropriations for secular and private charitable institutions in the district. This result was secured amidst the most exciting scenes that have been witnessed on the floor in this congress, and apparently out of all proportion to the importance and magnitude of the matters involved, but underneath the surface the feeling was prevalent that the influence of the vote would be far-reaching in the approaching political contest. After a time the republicans came together upon a motion by Mr. Grosvenor, rep., O., to reconsider the vote, and that was done. Then the bill was recommitted to the committee on appropriations with instructions to revise the schedule of appropriations for charities. Before that motion was adopted Mr. Crisp, dem., Ga., sarcastically congratulated the republican majority upon its capacity and competency to do the public business, asserting that whatever might have been the shortcomings and failures of the democrats, upon which the speaker when on the floor had often reminded them, they had never got into such a state of inability that they could not frame and pass an ordinary appropriation bill.

TUCKER MURDER MYSTERY.

Coroner's Jury Recommends That Myers and Bynes Be Held.

Yonkers, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Coroner Miles and a jury in the case of Mrs. Tucker, who was murdered in her home some days ago, have returned a verdict that Annie B. Tucker came to her death by strangulation caused by person or persons unknown and that sufficient evidence was adduced to warrant the holding of John F. Myers and Michael Brunes to await the action of the grand jury. James Lillis, who has been held as a suspect, was released on $5,000 bail.

FIVE KILLED: THIRTY WOUNDED. Soldiers Fire into a Mob of Tax Rioters at Sala.

Rome, Feb. 6.—News has reached here of a tax riot which occurred at Sala, Piedmont, yesterday, which assumed such serious proportions that the authorities were obliged to call upon the troops to restore order. The rioters refused to disperse when the troops reached the scene of the disturbance and the soldiers were ordered to fire upon the mob, which they did, killing five and wounding thirty.

with Pearline. 'Twould be absurd. It isn't necessary. Pearline contains every thing of a soapy nature that's needed or that's good to go with it. And Pearline is so much better than soap that it has the work all done before the soap begins to take any part.

You're simply throwing away money. It's a clear waste of soap—and soap may be good for something, though it isn't much use in washing and cleaning, when Pearline's around.

The Boy's View of It.
Mother—she's always sayin' she is.
Boys must be looked after—got to be strict.
When I tear my breeches like Billy tears his.
It helps 'em considerably when I am sick!
But it ain't leavin' over the fence or the post—
It's just that same leavin' at tears 'em the most!

Mother—she's always sayin' she is.

Dogs must have people to follow 'em round,

Never know where they're going to be.

Start to get lost, then have to be found,

An' then when they find 'em, they're so full of joy.

They can't keep from lovin' an' leavin' the boy!

There's John Johnson—got lost on the road;

Lucky wuz drivin' to market one day,

Fell out the wagon, an' nobody knew.

Till they come to catch him his daddy said:

"I'm comin'."

Wonder who John Johnson has gone to?

But Jim—was the two?—had got up with him!

They kept waggin' to get to a place.

When they got there, took off with the clown,

Cut off his ringers, an' painted his face.

An' then he rung 'em back to his daddy's own town!

An' what do you think? His folks didn't know

They're too busy hollerin' to git up an growl!

Why Is This Thus?

A horseball went around a curve,
A bull went on a strike,
A tooth from sheer fright lost its nerve,
A pig pole lost its spike.

A footfall raised a mighty kick,
A needle hurt its knee,
A sickie died from being sick,
An eyelet couldn't see.

And once a bulldog barked his skin,
A fish weighed with his scales,
A dinner made an awful din,
A nail king trimmed its nails.

A tree had just as leaf as not,
A police policed its trees,
A garden made a garden plot,
To make gourds of goats.

A sidewalk fell and burnt its side,
A coal mine caught a cold,
A chipmunk ate a chip and died,
A bowlder grew more bold.

A crematory made ice cream.
An "hour" told the hours,
All seems are not just what they seem,
All bloomers are not flowers.

He Took a Chair.

They have been printing recently some of Henry Labouchere's experiences as a diplomat in the United States. He was, as you will remember, an attaché of the British legation in Washington once upon a time. One day, they tell us, Labouchere was sitting in his office, when a rather noisy individual came in and asked to see the minister.

"You can't see him. He's gone out. You must see me."

"I don't want to see you. I want to see the boss of the ranch," said the noisy individual.

"All right," replied Labouchere, going on with his writing. "Take a chair."

The visitor sat and waited for an hour. Then, with several picturesque extracts from profane history, he inquired how long the boss would be out.

"I should think about six weeks," replied Labouchere coolly. "You see, he has just sailed for England." —Washington

Was Sure About His Mother.

Johnnie was about to repeat his first verse at the Sunday school concert. Of course it must be short and of simple words, so his mother selected this for him, "I am the light of the world," repeating it to him a number of times until he was sure of it. The evening of the concert came. The audience was in readiness. Johnnie came out, made his most approved bow and proclaimed in a loud voice, "My mother is the light of the world." —Congregationalist.

A Discrimination.

The Duluth Press calls special attention to a discrimination against women in the new income tax law. It says: "The income tax law pays a premium on single blessedness. Suppose a young woman has an income of $10,000, she has to pay a tax on but $6,000. Her intended husband has the same income and the same tax. But they marry, and the income tax law compels them to pay a tax on $16,000 instead of $12,000. The $4,000 of the woman is not exempt the moment she marries."

Eva Nansen.

The wife of the arctic explorer, Frau Eva Nansen, is an accomplished musician and has lately been giving a series of concerts in Norway. Her beautiful voice brings her a ready welcome, while her courage and cheerfulness through this period of terrible anxiety secure admiration and sympathy wherever she appears. It is now 18 months since Fridtjof Nansen left his home, bound for that arduous but most dangerous Mecca of explorers, the arctic regions.

Women in Banks.

At least one-half the money deposited daily in the various banks of this business center is carried there by women except where the amount is unusually large. The number of women cashiers is increasing in commercial houses, and in one bank in this city there are so many women cashiers that a separate window has been opened for them, and a toilet room in charge of a maid has been furnished for their comfort. —Chicago Tribune.

Tired Editors.

The women who got out the Crete (Neb.) edition of The Democrat closed the editorial page with the following naive paragraph:

The editors, as they lay down their pens after a week of hard work and gloomy looks from their husbands, gladly return to their homes more than ever convinced that the great weapon of women is the broom rather than the pen.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

English law takes no account of ibels on the dead. Not so in France. A Parisian lady has just obtained a verdict against an author who published some defamatory statements of her grandfather.

Before the coming of the whites to America the Mississippi river was known by a different name every few miles in its course. Each tribe that dwelt along its banks gave it a name, and more than 30 of these local designations are preserved in the narratives of the early travelers.

Sportsmen's enthusiasm is not always contagious. It worked distinctly the other way in the case of a resident of Buyside, Me., who recently was stopped on the highway by a party of sportsmen and made to wait with them an hour and a half, so that he would not scare away a deer which others of the hunting party were trying to drive out of the bordering wood.

A late official report shows that, contrary to common belief, cases of religious mania are rare in the British isles. It also discloses the strange fact that more mental aberration is developed among the tribe of peddlers than among any other class, physicians and druggists coming next. Melancholia prevails most in Ireland.

The archer fish has a natural blow gun. This animal possesses the curious property of being able to shoot drops of water from its mouth with extraordinary accuracy to considerable distances. This singular faculty is of use to the animal in securing its food. A fly or small insect passing over the water has very little chance of escape from the deadly aim of the archer fish. The drop of water brings down the insect, which is then inconfidently devoured.

Experiments are being made in Arizona in the establishment of carrier pigeon messenger service between remote mining camps and the nearest town or railway shipping points. So far as tried the service has proved successful and very valuable. The trails out from some of the large camps are long and difficult to traverse at times, and the carrier pigeons insure a great saving of time in exchanging communications.

Five thousand horses in one bunch were rounded up on the Flathead Indian reservation in Montana a week or so since. So large a band of horses is seldom seen now except on a few of the Indian reservations where there is an unrestricted range. For almost a week before the bunch was gathered in the Indians and half-breeds were scouring the valleys, canyons and mountain sides, driving every horse they found toward the common center, ready for the annual cutting out into individually owned bands.

THE STRAIN Is on the Kidneys.

The Perils of Railroading—Dangers Within the Body as Well as out of it—the Constant Jarring Hurts the Spine and Kidneys.

Railroading, as a business, is an extra hazardous occupation. Defective rails, misplaced switches, careless operators and signal men, open bridges and collisions make it so. Certainly a man who engages in it takes his life in his hand.

But there are other and even more serious dangers of which but little account is usually taken.

We refer to the effect of the constant jarring and jolting upon the kidneys. It is a very common cause of Kidney and Bladder disease.

Thin men are particularly susceptible to it.

Nature imbeds the kidneys in cushions of fat, because she wishes these to act as buffers and counteract this jarring. The men who have but little fat, therefore suffer the most.

The evil effects of constant jarring may be, in a large measure, overcome, and the urinary trouble cured by Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills, as witness the following.

MESSRS. HOBBS' MEDICINE CO., GENTLEMEN.—Your doctor may not know it, but eight out of every ten of the boys in the railroading line constantly complain of their kidneys or waterworks. I suppose it comes from the jolting and jerking of the cars. Any way it's a fact.

I suffered for over four years with pains in my back and loins, frequent calls to urinate, my water scalding and burning me off and on, and a constant sense of distress over the bladder.

Ed. Firman spoke to me about your Kidney Pills, and I tried them just for a flyer, same as I've tried so many things. But it wasn't the same. They did the business and did it well. In two weeks I hadn't a pain or a bad symptom and never had to get up in the night. I take them now every few days, and they keep straight and right.

Gratefully yours,
JOHN MORRISSEY,

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ill which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the test, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

HOWARD'S FIRST CLIENT.

He Came on Mighty Particular Business,
But It Was Not a Divorce.

When Representative M. W. Howard,
the populist member from Alabama,
first hung out his shingle as a lawyer he was 19 years of age. His patience was nearly exhausted by days spent in vain waiting for his first client to come, when one day he heard a knock at the door. On calling "Come in!" a darky, known as Sam, stepped into the little office.

"What can I do for you?" the lawyer asked, as visions of his first fee came to him.

"Excuse me, sah," said Sam, "but deed
I wants to see you on partikler business."

Mr. Howard, thinking that the man most likely wanted a divorce, said: "Sit down and explain everything carefully."

"Deed, sah, I would like to close de dore, fo' da bizness am mighty perturber," said Sam. After having closed the door he took the proffered chair. Then he explained:

"Sah, I has got a gurl in Georgia dat
I wants you to write a letter to fo' me."

"Do you love her?" asked the lawyer.
"Do you want to marry her? Does she love you?" and many questions of a like nature.

To all these questions Sam replied:
"Suttinly."

The reply being satisfactory, he proceeded to write the letter. After having finished it he read it to Sam to see whether it agreed with his ideas.

"Excuse me, boss," said Sam, scratching his woolly head; "excuse me if I offer a suggestion; I would like to put something else in da doc; something like dis:

Da roses am red,
And de vylets bloo;
De pink's am pretty,
And so is you.

And having put it in, Howard asked if that was all. Sam scratched his woolly head a minute and then said:
"Boss, dar am one mo' thing dat ought to go in dar—dis: 'I hopes dat you will excuse de pore, miserabile writin' and de bad spellin'."—Washington Post.

The Fagot Party.

If one has a wide fireplace and a number of friends who are good story-tellers, a fagot party may be a pleasant form of entertainment. Give to each guest a ribbon-tied bundle of fagots or bits of wood, place cozy seats about the fire and a number one (the ribbons should be numbered) to throw her fuel upon the fire. As it burns a story is to be told neither longer nor shorter than the time of its burning, and as the light dies out number two begins his tale. A room for a fagot party should be lighted only by candles and the firelight. Finish the evening with an informal dance, if your guests are of the dancing habit, and with a light and dainty supper, as most of us are of the eating habit.—N. Y. Post.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membranes. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream

these troubles.

Philadelphia, Pa., Item.

A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 243 North Eighth street, Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The act that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.

In the fall of 1889 he began to suffer indescribable miseries from stone in the bladder. Consulting an eminent physician in Philadelphia, he was told that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for it unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind he heard of 1893, he bought a bottle of it, and

Mr. Neill feels that he owes a last-says: "It will effect a cure if one

—There was a party hop held at of having a very enjoyable time; in fact to tell the truth I do not know of a better place to enjoy an evening than at Mr. H.'s as his family aim to make everything pleasant for their

the evening's engagements.

—One popular hotelkeeper, Mr. M.

little fellow aged about thirteen months. The disease which tormented his life was cholera infantum.
Mr. and Mrs. Coffey have the sympathy of the entire community in

—We have quite a depth of snow on the ground here and if it should clear off cold there is no doubt but it will make fine sleighing. Our lumbermen are looking pleasant and if the snow only stays with us any length of time the way they will make the cord wood fly will be a caution. Even as poor a winter as it has been for their business they have not been idle as there has been a great many cords of wood backed for market all ready.

—The services at the school house
Sunday evening were, we think, ap-

The Popular Leader—it is a proud success for the New York World.

The free silver Senators rushed their free coinage bill through in time, they hoped, to frighten off bidders for the loan, but nobody scared for a cent. They are to-day a badly discomfited lot.

Who is to be Harrison's legatee, anyway? Platt says Morton, Clarkson says Allison. Foraker says McKinley. But Harrison, he says nothing.

The splendid success of the hundred million loan makes sure that no further loan of the government will be placed with or through syndicates. A telling object lesson has been afforded the Washington authorities, a lesson that will remain with them for many a day. To doubt the patriotism or the pluck of the American people is a crime. You can bet on these qualities in them first, last, and all the time.

Bids aggregating almost six hundred millions for a loan of one hundred millions, shows conclusively that there is no suspicion of silver taint in the coin bonds of the government. Every bid made reflects absolute confidence in the public mind that the loan will be paid, interest and principal, in gold. This great vote of faith in the honor and integrity of the Republic cannot fail of grand effect throughout the world.

Amsterdam's charter tinkers find themselves confronted by a quite unanimous opposition to the proposition to do away with Spring municipal elections. There, as here, the sentiment is that city elections should be kept apart from those of State and nation. As does Middletown, Amsterdam holds its city election in March, in view of which the Sentinel calls attention to the improbability of Amsterdam's charter tinkers accomplishing their purpose in the short limit of time remaining, and demands that the usual conventions and nominations be proceeded with.

ODELL LOOMING UP.
From To-day's Albany Argus,

There is of late a perceptible rise in the gubernatorial stock of Congressman Ben Odell, of Newburgh. The impression seems to be that nobody but Odell, Fish, Saxton and Roberts are to be considered as probabilities, and that of these Odell might easily become among the most formidable, his friends are confident. Assemblyman Goodall, of Orange county, said yesterday that Odell's friends expect a definite announcement of his plans on the governorship within a few days. He intimated that Orange county is up in arms for Odell, with no second choice. It is an interesting feature of the Odell talk that those who are foremost in it are willing to arrange the entire slate. This plan includes Senator Ellsworth, of Lockport, President pro tem of the Senate, as Lieutenant Governor, as running mate to Odell.

The Modern Mother

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant Syrup of Fig, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. The true remedy, Syrup of Fig, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Bicycle riders, football players and athletes generally, find a sovereign remedy for the sprains and bruises and cuts to which they are constantly liable, in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

Why suffer from indigestion? Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Quick in effect, heals and leaves no scar. Burning, scaly skin eruptions quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Applied to burns, scalds and old sores it is magical in effect. Always cures piles, W. D. Olney.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Over ten millions and 1/2 more than last year.

BY UNITED PRESS.

ALBANY, Feb. 6.—The annual appropriation bill was reported in the Assembly, to-day, by the Ways and Means Committee. The aggregate is about ten million dollars and about $10,000 more than last year.

The bill appropriating $70,000 for the State Normal School at New Paltz was reported favorably.

TO-DAY'S STORM.

A Rush of Water Everywhere—Street Cars Delayed—A Washout on the Erie.

The rain that began during the night and which has continued all day has melted the snow with surprising rapidity and rendered it difficult to get about in any way, even travel by street cars being decidedly disagreeable and also very uncertain.

The gutters in some parts of the city had not been cleared of snow and the water covered the roadways and sidewalks and even where the gutters were open the volume of water was so great as to make crossing them almost impossible unless the feet of pedestrians were encased in rubber boots.

The electric cars were unable to run on schedule time, owing to the depth of water on the rails, which, if the cars were run at full speed, would be whisked into the motors and cause serious trouble. The cars on the Goshen line had to run through water nearly a foot deep in some places.

The Erie had a washout at the top of Oxford, about noon, which prevented the passage of trains. The last train over the spot was No. 9. No. 6 ran east to the washout where it met No. 11, due here at 1 o'clock, and after orders had been received from Jersey City the passengers were transferred to No. 6, which returned to Port Jervis and No. 11 went to New York. No. 6 did not reach here on its return trip until 3 o'clock.

The storm, which is very severe in the vicinity of New York, has also interfered with the working of telephone wires, and as a result our telegraphic reports are not as full as they would otherwise be.

While the storm has been decidedly unpleasant and has caused much inconvenience to those who were compelled to travel about in it, it has its compensations. It will put a very considerable quantity of water into our reservoirs; unfortunately, however, not enough to settle the question of a water supply.

In digestion is often taken for consumption. The word consumption means wasting away, and dyspepsia often waste away as badly as consumption.

The reason people waste away is because either they don't get enough to eat, or they don't digest what they do eat.

If the latter is your trouble, take Shaker Digestive Cordial. This will help you to digest your food and stop your loss of flesh.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is made from herbs, bark and juices of fruit, by the well-known Shakers at Mount Lebanon. It possesses great tonic and digestive powers.

Shaker Digestive Cordial has cured many supposed consumptives (who were really dyspeptics), by simply helping their stomachs to digest their food, thus giving them new strength.

PUBLIC VOICE.

THE MUCH vexed Question of Water Supply Vigorously Treated.

EDITORS AGAIN:—I understand from the report of the meeting of the Water Board that we have now in storage in the two reservoirs about 190,000,000 gallons less water than we had a year ago. If this is true, it is "a condition and not a theory which confronts us." The water during the past summer was unfit for use, and was undoubtedly in this condition because of lack of a fresh daily supply, without which the sun acting on the stagnant and shallow water causes fermentation and growth of vegetation. Now it is proposed to burden us with two more pools of stagnant water called "catch basins," holding at most about 40,000,000 gallons each. Against this plan I wish to enter a protest. We have already shallow reservoirs enough. We need one large, deep reservoir containing a vast quantity of water filled by the resources of the two streams known as the Bineewater and the Shawangunk Kill, from which a supply can be drawn to Monhagen Lake daily, thus insuring circulation and aeration with a fresh supply of water during the warm months. By all means let this water question be settled once for all and accept no plan that simply postpones the matter for ten or twelve years because it is cheap.

Yours very truly,

BURKE FILSBURY.

—"Charley's Aunt" at the Casino, Saturday night.

The sleighing was no sooner here than gone. Local horsemen are greatly disgusted therewith.

A key found on the street, this morning, has been left at this office for the owner.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Thrall Hospital will be held at the hospital, to-morrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

The Casino people are expecting their house to be packed on Saturday to see "Charley's Aunt," and on Monday to see Trilby.

All kinds of good home made cake for sale, to-morrow afternoon, at Mrs. Lyon's, 36 East avenue, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Luther Lodge I. O. O. F., will celebrate the 22d anniversary of the organization of the lodge by holding a reception in Maetherchor Hall, February 25th.

Not in very many months have we been treated to such a downpour of rain as this. All outdoor business is suspended, and the streets are almost deserted by pedestrians.

The city rocks are filled with rushing water. The Moubagen is getting a thorough washing and no harm done. Not so with Draper brook, which is backing into drains and flooding cellars in the southern part of the city.

The Suessex County Mutual Insurance Co. is one of the few successful institutions of the kind. It was organized in 1840, since which time it has been in continuous and successful operation.

Not since Uncle Tom's Cabin has there been such a demand for a book as was the case with Du Maurier's Trilby. The first production of Trilby in this city will undoubtedly be greeted with a packed house.

The Board of Trustees, of Walden, will pass an ordinance to compel the Electric Railway Co. to remove the snow from the street through which its tracks run and to prohibit dumping it from the track into the roadway.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that the cast which will produce "Charley's Aunt," Saturday evening, is the original cast which played in New York at the Standard Theatre, where it enjoyed a run for over a year. This was the company with which Mr. Harry Woodruff who was engaged to Anna Gould appeared. The majority of the company are English. Owen Fawcett, an actor who was famous in London forty years ago, and supported Booth, Barrett and other leading stars, is also with the company.

TO BE TRIED FOR A SERIOUS OFFENSE.

George Madison Charged With Keeping a Disorderly House at the Summit.

George Madison, a one-armed man, who gained considerable notoriety about a year ago by stealing a whip and other articles from a man near Unionville, for which offense he escaped with a slight fine, was arrested last night by Officer Wilson upon a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

Madison was accused of a similar offense about a year ago, but before his trial he left town and was not heard of until a few weeks ago, when much to the surprise of the police they found him living in a house near the Summit, where they had gone at the instance of a mother who was in search of a wayward girl. He was warned at that time to look out for himself, as he would be closely watched.

Madison, however, paid little heed to the warning and according to the statements of the neighbors, the Madison residence was the scene of nightly orgies, which became so notorious that it finally led to a complaint at police headquarters by Mrs. Mary O'Rourke.

Madison pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial, which was set down for next Monday at 9 o'clock. Madison, in the meantime, in default of $200 bail will scourn in the lock-up.

THE BIG BOND SALE.

Some of the Bids Went in From Far Locality.

There was a number of bids for the new bonds from this section of the State. The First National Bank of this city made a bid for $20,000 at 109. At that figure it had plenty of company, but bidders at 109 were left out in the cold.

The Union National Bank of Monticello bid 111 for $25,000 of the bonds, and probably stands a show to get the bonds. The Matteawan National Bank bid 112.7814 for $2,500; the Elenville Savings Bank offered to take $25,000 at 110.03; the Poughkeepsie Savings Bank $100,000 at figure below 110; the Fallkill National Bank of Poughkeepsie $50,000 at 110.25; Isaac W. Serrill, of Poughkeepsie, $100,000 at 110.25, and the same amount at 110.125. E. L. Riker, of Newburgh, put in a number of bids—one for $50, at 112.02; one of $100,000 at 109.51; $250,000 at 109.91; $500,000 at 108.51; $1,000,000 at 108.10; $2,000,000 at 107.51; $3,000,000 at 107.10; $4,000,000 at 106.51, and $5,000,000 at 106.01.

If there were other local bidders their names do not appear in the published lists.

THE CHARTER ELECTION BILL.

Mr. Bedell Trying to Rush It Through—A Political Rather Than Economical Measure.

A dispatch to the Newburgh Register, yesterday, stated that Assemblyman Bedell got the Middletown election bill to a third reading in the Assembly, Tuesday, and expected to pass it today.

The same dispatch says it is understood that Mr. Norton's objections to the advancement of a similar bill, changing the charter election of Little Falls from spring to fall, foreshadows a similar policy in both houses toward bills of this character, including the Middletown bill. There is believed to be more politics than economy in the numerous propositions to keep the present city officials in office several months longer than the time to which the people elected them.

An Upset on North Street.

A young man upset his sleigh while driving through North street, yesterday afternoon, but pluckily held to the lines to prevent his horse running away. He happened to pull harder on one rein than the other and by the time he regained his feet had turned the horse about so that it stood in front of him and he had only to seize it by the bit and hold it.

Unlike most proprietary medicines, the formulae of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla and other preparations are cheerfully sent to any physician who applies for them. Hence the special favor accorded these well known standard remedies by the World Fair commissioners.

Don't invite disappointment by experimenting. Depend upon One Minute Cough Cure and you have immediate relief. It cures croup. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. W. D. Oliver's.

ON THE SPEEDWAY.

Owners of Fast Horses Contest for Honors—Ben Williams Wins the Road.

Highbank avenue was crowded with sleighs yesterday afternoon, and some smart brushes were had. The drivers tried Dolson avenue but for some reason it did not prove as satisfactory a speedway as was anticipated and after a short time, they all went back to Highbank avenue.

There were some very fast ones shown, but none of them quite fast enough to lead Mr. B. B. Williams' new chestnut sorrel. He was "King of the Road" and it will take a very speedy animal to show him the way.

Mr. E. Tompkins' gray showed considerable speed, but was not as steady as could be desired.

Dr. Robinson showed his new bay. The animal is speedy, but is evidently outclassed by the others.

Other horses, whose owners had expected great things of them, were out, but had no business with the above mentioned animals.

One gentleman, in according the palm to Mr. Williams' horse, said: "I thought I had a good one, but Ben went by me as though I was tied to a post."

HIS AIM TOO GOOD.

Cost Three Dollars to Throw a Snow Ball.

A well directed snow ball, thrown by Howard Jones, struck George Maier, Jr., in the ear, and so aroused his ire, that he immediately proceeded to apply to the aforesaid Howard, such epithets as no self-respecting young man would submit to, and a scrap resulted. George emerged from the fray much the worse for wear, and proceeded to make a complaint before the Re-order, charging Howard with assault.

The evidence showed that both were equally to blame as far as the fight was concerned, but it cost Howard three dollars for throwing the snow ball.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

A. V. Boak, real estate agent, has sold for Mrs. Eliza Bull, of this city, widow of the late Spencer M. Bull, her valuable farm located in the town of Hamptonburgh one mile from Campbell Hall village and containing 100 acres, for which Mr. Bull paid $125 per acre, to Mr. Deans Lane, of Burnside, a large dealer in timber. Mr. Lane will take possession April 1st and remove his steam saw mill to the farm.

The Orange county court will convene at Newburgh Court House, on Monday next, Hon. J. J. Beattie, presiding.

They are only six cases noticed for trial. They are as follows:

Stanabrough; Thos. Fulton and another vs. A. C. Frederickson; Patrick McLeaney vs. William L. Carpenter.

FOUND DEAD IN THE ROADWAY.

Albert Garrabrant was found dead in the road in the outskirts of Nyack yesterday morning. He had started to walk to Rockland Lake to work and was doubtless suddenly attacked with heart disease.

TEXT OR NO TEXT.

The Bloomer Woman Will Continue to Bloom in Spite of All.

The English Philistine surpasses all the rest of his kind the world over. The new woman in bloomers has lately attracted his ire, and he has been fighting her with a bitterness as engrossing as it is amusing. The other day he inserted the following advertisement in the "Argus" column of the London Standard:

Deuteronomy, Fifth Verse, Twenty-second Chapter.—"The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth to a man, for all that do so are abomination unto the Lord thy God."

This was, of course, intended to clinch the matter, because the British Philistine always wages war with the Bible in one hand—preferably the Old Testament—and is able to draw therefrom a text to prove anything. But woe to a wicked, carnal and sacrilegious generation! The new woman would not be put down with a text. She had no text of her own, but she launched at the Philistine the following, which must have added not a little to the poignancy of his woe:

The modern woman thinks that tress would add to human bouffomie, and so in-spirits her views in spite of Deuteronomy.

Remarkable Operation.

A remarkable operation was successfully performed at the Flushing (N. Y.) sanitarium recently by Dr. Charles A. Phelps, chief surgeon of the New York police department and visiting surgeon of Bellevue hospital. The operation was the removal of varicose veins and the patient G. E. Russell of Williamsport, Pa. The veins extended from the hip to the bottom of the foot. They were tied in 120 places before the operation was completed. Dr. Phelps pronounced the case the most remarkable he had ever seen.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A New England Version of Tennyson.
Come into the garden, Maud.
For the white cat winter has fled,
An you get lost around
An spade up the garden bed.
The horse reddish down by the wall
Has sprouted, the rhubarb, too,
An the fennel an spergarius
Is eaten, Maud, for you.

Come into the garden, Maud.
Bring the rakes, the hoe in the spade,
An the hellebore in your seeds.

It is time that the beds you made,
An I will lock over the wall
While the robin sings you a song
An the bumblebee buzzes around

To see how you're gittin along.

For there isn't a soul but you,
As your ma has the rheumatiz,
To walk in the garden, Maud,
So you better right down to biz,
For you're all alone.

An the boy has plenty to do
With plowin, plantin an sowing,
An pushin the farm work through,

Go set the planter up,
An your woostered dogs lay by,
Take the rings from off of your hands—

It'll do no good to cry—

An into the garden, Maud,

Like a dutiful, clever young lass,
You hastie this minute, now,

Or therell be no garden seas.

The buttercup is blomed in her hair;

The roses blomed on her cheek;

She could nastic the township down

When she'd worked in the garden a week.

HYMENEA.

SPOFFORD-SWALM.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Swalm, on North street, was, last evening, the scene of one of the prettiest home weddings that has occurred in this city in a long time.

The contracting parties were their daughter, Miss Florence Corwin Swalm, and Mr. Charles Milton Spofford, a successful young civil engineer, of the Phoenix Bridge Works, of Phoenixville, Pa.

The spacious parlors had been turned over to Florist Firshaber, and when he had completed the decorations a more beautiful and artistic display would be difficult to imagine. The chandeliers and mantels were covered with garlands of smilax and bunches of white flowers of various kinds, while between the windows of the rear parlor a beautiful canopy of smilax, banked by palms and Easter lilies, had been erected.

It was here that Rev. Dr. Gordon, the officiating clergyman, awaited the coming of the bridal party. Promptly at the appointed time, 6 o'clock, Masters Orrin Fellowe and Ralph Uptegrove, attired in pages' costumes of white satin, entered the parlors from the hall. They carried white and green ribbon streamers, with which they formed an aisle for the rest of the party.

They were followed by the ushers, who were Mr. J. Mortimer Dallum, of Philadelphia; Mr. Clarence W. Hudson, of Phoenixville, and Messrs. J. S. Haubert and Theodore L. Reeve, of this city.

Following the ushers came the maid of honor, Miss Emma S. Hartwell, who carried upon a silver tray two rings, which were to be used in the ceremony.

Next came the bride leaning upon the arm of her father. They were met at the altar by the groom and his groomsmen, Mr. Edwin Tenny Stiger, of Boston.

The beautiful and impressive marriage ritual of the Episcopal Church was read by Dr. Gordon, and a ring was given and received by both bride and groom.

After congratulations had been said, a wedding supper was served by Caterer Day, of Newark, N. J., aided by a corps of experienced assistants.

The happy young couple left via the S. 25 or the O. & W. for New York, but neither the extent of their journey nor its duration was made known. Mr. and Mrs. Spofford will reside at Phoenixville, Pa.

The bride's dress was a beautiful gown of white satin and chiffon trimmings, and she wore a veil of delicate tulle. She carried a bouquet of white lilies.

The maid of honor was attired in pale green silk, trimmed with white chiffon, and she wore a garland of smilax about her neck.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents of silverware, cut glass, etc., a bracelet, etc. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl brooch. The bride's gifts were to the maid of honor, a diamond stick pin, to the ushers gold star pins and to the pages gold rings.

About one hundred guests were present, among whom were a number from out of town, as follows:

Mr. Jerome Uptegrove, Miss Rena Uptegrove, Master Ralph Uptegrove, Mrs. Percy Hozan, Mrs. B. G. Palmer, Miss Carrie Palmer and Miss Tuthill, of Brooklyn; Dr. J. H. A. Hartwell, Miss Louise Hartwell, of New York; Miss Spofford, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Charles Falcone, of Georgetown, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sanger, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parshall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salmon, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gordon and Mr. Graham Witschif, of Port Jervis; Miss Gertie, of Bethlehem, Pa., and Miss Alice Hartwell, of Deckertown, N. J.

Want a vindication.

Delaware Hose Co., of Port Jervis, has appointed a committee to investigate the charges made by President Carley, and to also appear before the Board of Trustees and demand that an official investigation be made by that body.

Co-operation insurance.

Indigestion and Bitterness.

New York, N. Y., Dec. 16, 1885.—I suffered with indigestion, dizziness and a tired feeling, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has entirely cured me and now I recommend it to all of my friends. Mrs. F. Rosenthal 117 West 37th St.

Hood's Pills are especially prepared to be taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

EAGLES STILL THE CHAMPIONS.
They Get Away With the "Orchards" in a Bowling Match.

When the members of Eagle Hose Company started their bowling alleys it is doubtful if there were a half dozen men in the company who had ever bowled a game of ten pins.

The sport, however, struck a popular chord and some of the members have become expert bowlers, so expert, that it followed as a natural consequence that they organized a regular team, and began looking for "scalps."

The "Orchards," who have bowled games, thought that the newly organized team would be an easy mark and they issued a challenge which was accepted by Eagles and the match was bowled, last evening.

Eagles had things all their own way, winning the first game by 101 points, the second by 42. The full score follows:

"The New Boy."

A much talked about funny play called "The New Boy" is to be given at the Casino, Thursday evening, Feb. 13th. It is the sensation of the theatrical world. It is a wholesome, health prolonging, rollicking play. It is full of love making, dark-eyed flirtation and other demonstrations of a bursting heart, that makes the people roar with laughter. A wild, headstrong boy in a school paralyzes the professor and paints things red. He is arrested for stealing apples, kicked and cuffed by the bullies of the school, and a thousand men would not imagine this boy as the husband of that tall, handsome matron of the school whom the doctor is trying to marry. But he is. And when the disclosure is made at the end of the play, in New York, London and other great cities, and even in far away Australia, it is the hit of plays. If you are a bad man, see the play and you will reform. If you are a good man, see this play and you will stop foreclosing mortgages and selling the property of helpless widows and children.

Bert Coote plays the title role.

OUR RED BRETHREN

Paughcaughnaughnsine Tribe in a State of Activity—Capturing Pale Faces—to Give a War Dance—A Council of Squaws to Be Organized

Paughcaughnaughnsine Tribe of Red Men is in a state of activity and capturing pale faces at every campfire of the order. It is determined that the public shall be made aware of its existence and to that end is arranging for a dance at the Assembly Rooms, on Feb. 18th, on which occasion, instead of war paint the braves and their squaws will wear masks. On that occasion a handsome clock which may be seen at B. S. Dayton & Son's store will be awarded to the fire company receiving the largest number of votes.

The ladies will be interested to know that a council of the Tribe of Pocahontas will soon be organized.

This order has the same object as the Red Men—"Freedom, Friendship and Charity," but its membership is composed of squaws only.

Any woman of good moral character over eighteen years of age may become a member. There are already about fifty names upon the charter member list, which will close on Feb. 22nd.

Remedy for "Balling."

Glycerine applied to a horse's shoots is declared to be an effectual preventative of "balling." It is said by veterinarians to be harmless, and will not keep moisture away from the hoof as is the case when lard or oil is used, as glycerine will mix with water.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is known by its works. The experience of half a century proves that no other preparation of the kind stops coughing and allays irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes so promptly and effectually as this.
